

The final project for this course is to write an all-inclusive guide for someone who wants to live and work and/or conduct business in your country. With many countries such as China and India taking on a more significant role in the global business landscape, you can't afford to not know the practices, customs, and philosophies of other countries. You are not limited on which categories you use; however, the following must be covered:

- Background on the country (demographics, culture, history)
- Economic profile
- Cost of living (housing, food, entertainment, transportation)
- Availability and quality of medical services
- Social norms
- Business practices and etiquette (meals, gifting, greeting, etc.)
- Safety
- Places to go

I should not have to set a minimum page limit. You need to leave NO stone unturned. The requirements are:

- This paper must be original research; you may not use any paper (or part of) that you have used in another course. If I discover this has happened, I will consider it plagiarism and you will receive a final, irreversible grade of "o" for this course. (Recycling any of your previous work is not allowed).
- APA format
- no footnotes, use endnotes
- bibliography
- minimum of 3 academic sources, you may use as many sources as you like
- 11-point font, Times New Roman, 1.5 line spacing
- 1-inch margins on all sides
- any illustrations may be included at the end as an addendum

Links to instruction on APA style are listed on VH.